Your Capital Public Radio Adventure begins...

Day 1: January 9 ~ Arrive in Miami

Plan to arrive in Miami no later than the evening of January 9th. Meet your Capital Public Radio host and Earthbound representative at 8pm in the private reception room at the Crowne Plaza Miami International Airport hotel. The Crowne Plaza is located just 10 minutes away from the airport and offers a complimentary shuttle service. Sleep in Miami

Day 2: January 10 ~ Depart Miami & Arrive in Historic Havana

Check in for our charter flight from Miami to Havana, Cuba.

After clearing Cuban customs and immigrations, you will be welcomed by your Cuban guide, who will be holding a "Welcome Capital Public Radio" sign outside of the terminal. Your guide will assist with the transfer to the heart of Old Havana (Habana Vieja), where we have lunch together. After lunch our guide will lead us on a stroll through the colorful cobblestone streets of Old Havana.

Check into our hotel later this afternoon and relax with a cool mojito on the patio overlooking the sea.

Meet your Capital Public Radio host and guide at 7:00pm and walk to dinner to one of Havana's best known paladars (private home restaurants). Sleep in Havana (L, D)

Day 3: January 11 ~ Cuba's National Art Schools & Education in Santeria

We will head out after breakfast this morning and visit the Plaza de la Revolucion, the Cemetery of Christopher Columbus, and the Miramar area before continuing on to Cuba's National Art Schools (Escuelas Nacionales de Arte, now known as the Instituto Superior de Arte). These innovative, organic Catalan-vaulted brick and terra-cotta buildings are considered by historians to be one of the most outstanding architectural achievements of the Cuban Revolution. They were built on the site of a former country club in the far western Havana suburb of Cubanacán, which used to be Havana's "Beverly Hills" and was then mainly reserved for Communist Party officials. The schools were conceived and founded by Fidel Castro and Che Guevara in 1961, and they reflect the utopian optimism and revolutionary exuberance of the early years of the Cuban Revolution. Over their years of active use, the schools served as the primary incubator for Cuba's artists, musicians, actors, and dancers. The schools' design fell out of favor by 1965 and the buildings were nearly completely decommissioned until preservation efforts were mounted in force in the 1990s. Now tentatively on the list of World Heritage sites, they are in use, though still in various states of disrepair.

Lunch today is served at El Aljibe Restaurant located in the elegant Miramar section of Havana. Then we'll depart for the "Callejon de Hamel Socio-Cultural Project" in the Centro Habana. The aim of this venture is to rehabilitate traditional folk culture in the neighborhood, taking into account the spiritual, cultural and material needs of this population.

Here we'll also have the chance to visit a private Santeria house. The Santeria religion is a system of beliefs that merges the Yoruba religion (which was brought to the New World by enslaved West Africans sent to the Caribbean to work on sugar plantations) with Roman Catholic and Native American traditions. These Africans carried with them various religious customs, including a trance for communicating with their ancestors and deities, animal sacrifice and sacred drumming and dance.

We'll also attend a neighborhood Rumba performance.

Cultural Note: In 1985 the Cuban Minister of Culture stated the obvious: "Rumba without Cuba is not rumba, and Cuba without rumba is not Cuba." Today Cuban rumba is a genre involving dance, percussion, and song. There are three main forms: yambú, guaguancó, and columbia. Rumba is an amalgamation of several transplanted African dance and drumming traditions, combined with Spanish influences.

We'll have dinner together tonight accompanied by another live musical performance. Sleep in Havana (B, L, D)

Day 4: January 12 ~ The History of Dance & School Visit

Early birds may wish to soak up the sun and walk along the malecón before breakfast. After breakfast we'll set off to the Havana Country Club to learn about the history of music and dance in Cuba. Multiple instructors will explain how this small island became a major powerhouse when it comes to music and dance. The Cha Cha Cha, Rumba, Salsa and Merengue all come from Cuba. After a thorough demonstration you'll be invited to learn some of the dances with the instructors.

We'll lunch together and then continue to an elementary school where we will have the opportunity to meet children in their classrooms and participate in a discussion session with some of the school's administrators and teachers about Cuba's education system. (This is the opportunity for you to personally deliver school supply gifts to the children or school. Any donations are greatly appreciated). Should an elementary school not be available, or not in session, we will substitute this activity with another opportunity to interact directly with local Cubans.

Dinner is at another of Havana's wonderful paladars. Sleep in Havana (B, L, D)

Day 5: January 13 ~ A Day with Hemingway & Museum of Fine Arts

After breakfast, we're off to visit Finca Vigía (Lookout Farm) where North America's literary giant, Ernest Hemingway, spent twenty-one of his most important and productive years penning some of the building blocks of English literature. Claimed by both the United States and Cuba as their son, it was Hemingway himself who declared the island his true home. Before returning to Havana we stop by the quaint fishing village of Cojimar which served as the setting for The Old Man and the Sea.

After lunch, we will visit the Museo Nacional de Bellas Artes (National Museum of Fine Arts), known for its international and Cuban art. The comprehensive Colección de Arte Cubano comprises three floors of art, spanning works from the 16th to the 20th centuries by prominent Cuban artists concentrating mostly on pieces from the 20th century.

Across the street from the Fine Arts Museum is the impressive Museum of the Revolution. Sitting outside are the American Jeeps and planes used during the failed Bay of Pigs landing. Also worth noting, the very yacht named "Granma" that was used to transport 82 Cuban fighters and Fidel to the shores of Cuba from Mexico in 1956.

This evening, we'll attend a dramatic ceremony – El Cañonazo – the firing of the Cannon at the Fortress of San Carlos de la Cabaña at 9pm. This enchanting colonial reenactment dates back to 1519 when the city of Havana was enclosed by a tall, thick rock wall to ward off attacks from pirates and the English. The cannon firing signaled the closing of the city gates for the night. If you were outside at the time, you were in "vedado" or the forbidden zone. Today, Vedado is an important cultural hub and a beautiful section of modern Havana.

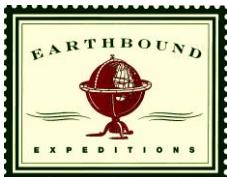

We return to the hotel after the ceremony. For those interested we can venture off to one of Havana's many popular jazz clubs. Sleep in Havana (B, L)

Day 6: January 14 ~ Havana to Colonial Trinidad

After breakfast, we'll depart for Cienfuegos province, also known as the "Pearl of the South". Here you'll see remnants of French-style architecture built by immigrants from Bordeaux, France. The majority of the city, however, displays 19th-century early Spanish Enlightenment implementation in urban planning and was declared a UNESCO heritage for that reason. Upon arrival in Cienfuegos, we'll take a brief city tour before enjoying lunch at the former Cienfuegos Yacht Club ocean-side restaurant (Club Náutico de Cienfuegos).

After lunch, enjoy a special performance by the Choir of Cienfuegos or the Chamber Society of Cienfuegos. Later this afternoon, we'll make the short drive to Las Brisas

Beach Resort. There will be time to freshen up or take a swim before dinner. Enjoy dinner at the hotel. Sleep in Trinidad (B, L, D)

Day 7: January 15 ~ Trinidad and Topes de Collante National Park

This morning, we'll head off to the stunning and lush Topes de Collante National Park. Boasting caves, rivers, falls, grottos, canyons, and natural pools with crystal clear water, this is a park for nature lovers! There will be time to hike to the gorgeous Caburni Waterfall. Lunch will be at Mi Retiro restaurant.

In the afternoon, we'll have a walking tour of the Old Center of Trinidad and an opportunity to enjoy a dance and music performance by the Ballet Folklorico! Dinner is out on the town this evening. Sleep in Trinidad (B, L, D)

Day 8: January 16 ~ Return to Havana

Returning to Havana this afternoon, we'll make a stop at the private home and studio of famed Cuban artist, Jose Fuster who is known as the Picasso of the Caribbean. Mr. Fuster is a ceramicist and painter whose work has contributed to the upgrading of his entire community. Driving through the neighborhood which is known as "Fusterlandia," you'll see ceramic tiled walls in fanciful designs. Fuster's first ceramic work was a gift to his neighbor who was a nurse. He transformed her front yard into a Disneyland of ceramic animals and mythical figures. Later, another neighbor asked for the identical work for his house. Soon Fuster was doing this free work for all his neighbors, which attracted travelers worldwide (and locals) and led to his growing popularity. As you learn about his work, you may be able to purchase his art directly if desired.

Arrive in Havana, check-in to the Hotel Nacional and commemorate our time in Cuba with a special farewell dinner hosted by Capital Public Radio. Sleep in Havana (B, L, D)

Day 9: January 17 ~ Depart Cuba for Miami

We transfer to Havana's Jose Marti Airport where we check in for our flight back to Miami. (Charter flight time TBA). (B)

WHERE YOU'LL STAY IN HAVANA: The Hotel Nacional

The historic Hotel Nacional is located on the Malecón seafront. The decision to build a luxury hotel was made in the late 1920s. The American firms McKim, Mead & White and Purdy & Henderson Co., tasked with the planning and construction, completed the palatial edifice in 14 months. The same firm designed Penn Station, Washington Square in New York. The hotel exhibits an eclectic architectural style, reflecting art deco, Arabic references, features of Hispano-Moorish architecture, and both neoclassical and neocolonial elements. There are even details from the centuries-old Californian style. The resulting unique example of so many schools of architecture is the most unusual and interesting hotel in the Caribbean region. Among its first illustrious guests were artists, actors, athletes and writers such as Frank Sinatra, Ava Gardner, Mickey Mantle, Johnny Weissmuller, Buster Keaton, Jorge Negrete, Agustín Lara, Rocky Marciano, Tyrone Power, Rómulo Gallegos, Errol Flynn, John Wayne, Marlene Dietrich, Gary Cooper, Marlon Brando, and Ernest Hemingway. In February 1946, Sir Winston Churchill visited Cuba, staying in the hotel's Republica Suite, and was accorded diplomatic privileges by the Cuban government. In December 1946, Lucky Luciano and Meyer Lansky hosted an infamous mob summit and was attended by Santo Trafficante, Jr., Frank Costello, Albert Anastasia, Vito Genovese and many others. Francis Ford Coppola memorably dramatized the conference in his film The Godfather Part II.

THING YOU SHOULD KNOW...

Cuba is a developing country and still lacks many modern conveniences. It is not unusual to experience short power black-outs or to find that your hot water, internet, TV or phone in your hotel room does not work properly (or at all). Further, the Cuban government and incoming Havana agency has the right to change the itinerary without notice (and often does). We'll be travelling under a "people to people" license, which means that our days will be filled with many educational experiences. They will begin around 8:30am and end around 5:00pm. This is not a trip for those looking for a leisurely, beach holiday. Travelers who arrive in Havana with sense of humor, an open mind and are ready to be flexible will absolutely fall in love with the people and culture of Cuba.
