

Antoinette Vojtech

Executive Director, Principal Gifts and Campaign,
Sacramento State

Antoinette Vojtech joined Sacramento State in April 2015. Antoinette has held various roles at Sacramento State, including Director of Development, Regional and Parent Outreach; Director of Development, College of Engineering and University Wide Initiatives; and her current role as the Executive Director, Principal Gifts and Campaign. Within her current role, Antoinette manages Sacramento State's principal gift program and oversees the day-to-day operations and strategy for Sacramento State's first comprehensive campaign.

From 2011 to 2015, Antoinette served as the Director of Development, Vision, and Neuroscience at UC Davis, where she raised the single largest gift from an individual in the University's history. Prior to her role at UC Davis Health, Vojtech held various fundraising roles, with a focus on principal gift prospects, at the Computer History Museum and Children's Health Council in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Antoinette graduated from University of Michigan, Ann Arbor with a bachelor's in psychology.
